DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. A substitute specification in proper idiomatic English and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b) is required. The substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1 - 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, third line from the bottom, it is not clear as to what is meant by "when the value of at least one purchase amounts to the value of the deposit". This also applies to claim 12 and the specification at page 10, lines 14 - 15.

In claims 24 - 27, in order to provide consistency, the term "agent" should (or should not) be used after the appropriate occurrences of "consumer", "customer" and "merchant". Also the term "consumer" or "customer" should be used consistently, but not both if they are referring to the same entity.

In claim 24, line 3, "form" should probably be - -from- -.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Spies et al.

Spies et al, figure 2, teach a system and method for secure purchase and delivery of content programs such that Applicant's merchant reads on element 44, Applicant's consumer reads on element 26, Applicant's first key reads on the program key, Applicant's step of the merchant signing and sending reads on column 8, lines 51 – 55, and Applicant's step of receiving an acceptance message reads on columns 7 – 8, lines 62 – 25.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spies et al.

Although not specifically taught by Spies et al, resending of an electronic product by the merchant to the customer upon the customer not acknowledging receipt of the product is considered to be old and well known, if not inherent to the system taught by Spies et al. Therefore, it is considered that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to re-send the electronic product purchased by the customer upon an indication that the customer has not received the product, as the merchant would only be exhibiting good customer service.

Conclusion

9. In view of the USC § 112 2nd paragraph rejection and the specification issues noted above in paragraphs 2-4, the examiner has not included an indication of allowability of claims 1 – 23.
